

Ms Gloria Allred and Ms Krystal Clemens Debate

Oct 5. 2007 Modavox Podcast:: Will slacker/dad Kevin Federline win custody of his baby sons from partygirl/mom Britney Spears?

Two high-powered lawyers, Ms. Gloria Allred and Ms. Krystal Clemens, flex their legal muscles to debate the disparity of parental rights and child custody within the judicial system. Ms. Allred, women's rights attorney, activist, and media commentator has relentlessly taken on corporations, politicians, celebrities, and others who have harmed her clients and violated the law. Ms. Clemens, founder of fathers' rights law firm DadsLaw, Inc., has championed equal rights for fathers in court since 1991 and pioneered the nationwide Fathers Rights Network to assure representation across the country. Remember, when parents get down and dirty, the child usually comes out the loser. Let's hear what the law says is best for the kids.

Show Celebrities aren't the only parents who fight this battle, so this promises to be a heated hour:
